Foster was last contacted by a family member by telephone while at her residence in the vicinity of the 1000 block of Cornerstone Place in North Las Vegas, Nevada on March 28, 2006. Her live-in boyfriend stated she left him on April 3 and took all of her belongings with the exception of her makeup and hair dryer. Foster's loved ones stated it would be uncharacteristic of her to leave those items behind. Foster is originally from Canada and her family still lives there. She kept in daily contact with her relatives at home, but they have not heard from her since her disappearance. She has also not used her credit cards, bank account or cellular phone since March 28. Jessica is believed to be a victim of human trafficking. Both American and Canadian police are investigating her case.
